

MG Thomas W. Spoehr

Major General Spoehr assumed duty as the Director of Program Analysis and Evaluation, Headquarters, Department of the Army, G-8 on 6 February 2012. In that capacity he is responsible for developing the Army Program Objective Memorandum, the Army's long term financial plan, as well as providing independent fiscal analysis for the Chief of Staff and Secretary of the Army.

Prior to this assignment, he served as the Deputy Commanding General (Support), United States Forces-Iraq in 2011, responsible for assisting the Commanding General in the areas of Support, Transition and Retrograde, and as the Director of Force Development, Headquarters, Department of the Army, G-8 from 2009 - 2011. Prior to that assignment, he was the 24th Chief of Chemical and the Commandant of the U.S. Army Chemical, Biological, Radiological and Nuclear School, Fort Leonard Wood. Other key assignments in Headquarters, Department of the Army, G-8 have included the Director of Integration, the Director of Materiel and Chief, Full Dimensional Protection Division. Major General Spoehr has commanded at the Brigade, Battalion and Company level. He has also served on staff assignments ranging from a Combatant Command down to Battalion level.

His military education includes the Army War College class of 2000, Joint Professional Military Education Phase II, Army Command and General Staff College, Combined Arms and Services Staff School, and Basic and Advanced Chemical Officer Courses. He earned a Bachelor of Science degree in Biology from the College of William and Mary, Williamsburg, Virginia in 1980 and a Master of Arts in Public Administration from Webster College, St. Louis, Missouri.